CORAM: A.P.DESHPANDE, J.

2/8/07

PC:

Both the learned counsel for respective parties submit that the present writ petition can be disposed of in terms of order dated 22.6.07 passed in Writ Petition No.5050/06 as identical issue has been decided in the said writ petition. The said order reads thus:

The petitioner employer takes exception to part-I award passed by the Labour Court in IDA Reference No.252/01 wherein the Labour Court had held that the enquiry conducted against the second party workan is not fair and proper. The order runs into 32 pages. All the contentions and submissions are referred to in the order whereas only conclusion has been reached in para 35. Both the learned counsel appearing for respective parties conceded that the impugned award is lacking the reasons, and it deserves to be quashed and set aside. On concession made available by the learned counsel for the respondent, I proceed to allow the petition. The impugned order is quashed and set aside. The matter is remanded back to the labour court for denovo enquiry and also hearing and decision in the matter. In the facts of the present case, an expedited decision of the reference is desirable as much time has lapsed. I hope and trust that the Labour Court will proceed to decide the reference as expeditiously as possible preferably within a period of six months.

Writ petition stands disposed of in above terms.
